AUTHENTIC | UNSCRIPTED WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHY

hey there

I'm Cass

If you're here, chances are you're not looking for perfectly posed, overly curated wedding photos...

You just want your day to feel like yours.

The real moments. The quiet ones. The chaos, the calm, the in-between.

That's exactly what I'm here for.

I'm a relaxed, down-to-earth presence on your day — someone who will gently guide when needed, but mostly step back and let things unfold naturally.

So you can actually be present... not pulled away from it.

WHAT IT'S LIKE TO WORK WITH ME.

I take on a limited number of weddings each year so I can give each couple my full attention. From the moment you enquire through to receiving your gallery, everything is personal and considered. I take the time to get to know you, understand what matters most, and guide you through the process in a way that feels easy and natural.

Most couples tell me they feel a little unsure about being in front of the camera — and that's completely normal. My approach is calm and unobtrusive, creating space for you to relax into the day rather than feel like you need to perform.

On the day, I work in a documentary way, capturing things as they unfold. I'll gently step in when needed, offering just enough direction to create something refined and natural — without ever feeling forced.

The result is a collection of images that feel honest, effortless, and deeply personal — photographs that reflect not just how your day looked, but how it felt.
